

Lectern Australia

AL1500 Director

The new Director lectern is the perfect lectern for small in-house presentations where there is no need for microphones or lights yet looks just as elegant and professional as the Senator Lectern.

The frame of the Director lectern is identical to the AL2000 Senator lectern but it does not have any microphone sockets, light sockets or clock.

The Director is proudly designed and built in Australia and the quality is second to none.

Most important is the price, the Director makes good financial sense.

The Director is available in black, silver or gold.

Front panels are standard black, however a complete range of colours and fabrics are available, and printing your organisation or company logo on the Director can also be arranged.

The Direct lectern has no microphone inputs, light inputs or clock.
